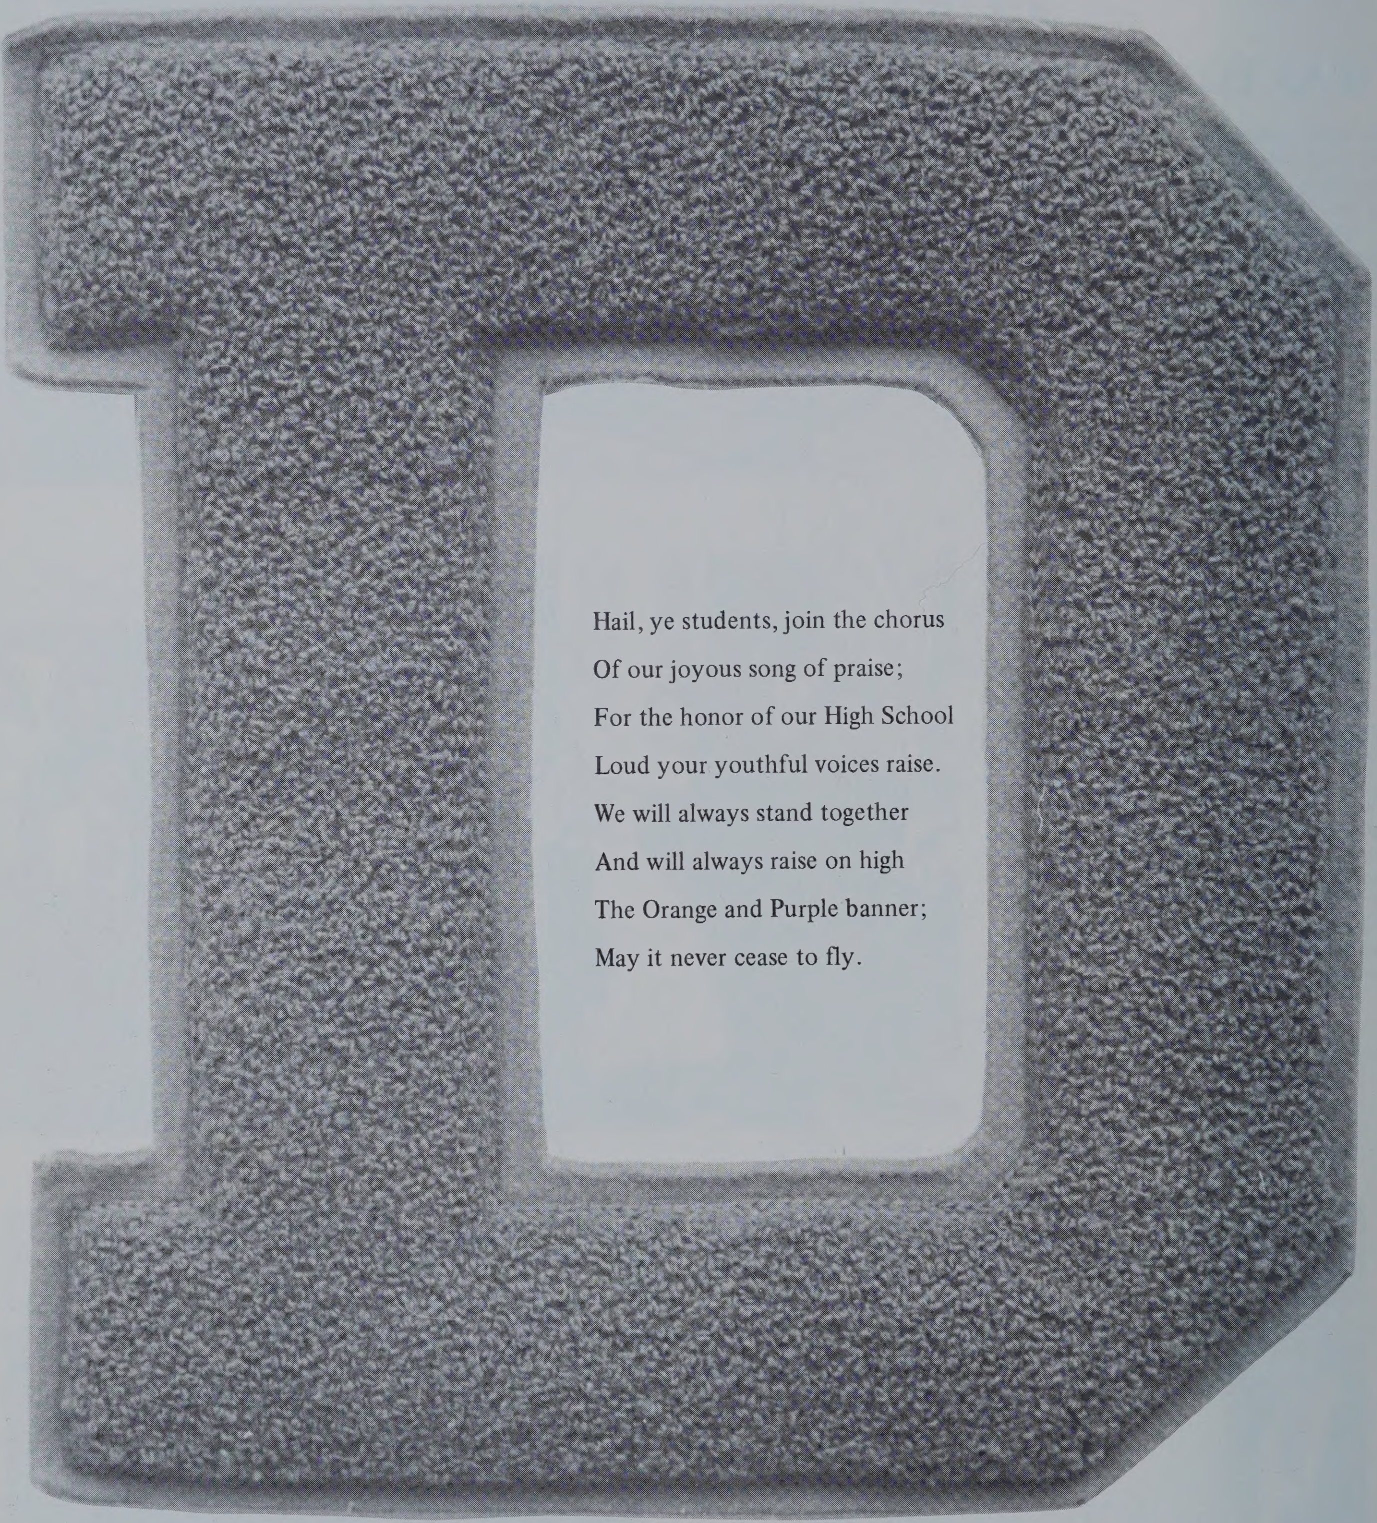
THE EXECUTIVE STAFF

D. Eyerly, Editor; W. Reichen, Editor; N. Giarardi, Business manager.



Hail, ye students, join the chorus
Of our joyous song of praise;
For the honor of our High School
Loud your youthful voices raise.
We will always stand together
And will always raise on high
The Orange and Purple banner;
May it never cease to fly.

DEDICATION

"Viewed from a distance, the forbidding hills seem high and dangerous. The road appears to wind at angles steep and perilous
yet we must go that way, despite our fears.
But weary eyes see dimly from afar;
the hills ahead look harder than they are."

This yearbook is dedicated to the members of the class of 1969, those of us who are about to begin the climb along the sometimes forbidding path of life. It is our hope that Danville High School has done its part in equipping us for our journey into the outside world.

Our class, 1969, will be the last to graduate in this decade of the 60's – and it will be the first to enter the 70's. What lies ahead for this nation, even for this world, is in our hands. The awesome burden of living and working in an ever more complex society is the challenge facing us. Having the courage to change those things which need changing, the patience to accept things which cannot be changed, and the God-given wisdom to know the difference, is our calling. May we be worthy of the task that is now cast upon us.

In this dedication we also wish to convey our thanks to those who have had a part in shaping the education of the class of 69. The administration and faculty of Danville High School have shown concern for us in our past three years here. Though at times their patience was tried and we gave them little reward for their efforts, always our best interests were paramount in their minds.

We would especially like to thank Mr. Lynn Shoop, our class advisor, who has guided us through our high school lives. His was no small task, and for the advice and help he gave us, we shall be ever grateful.

Mr. Lynn Shoop

Class of 1969, as we leave Danville High School, may we have left behind a worthwhile record, and may we take with us the assurance that in our preparation for life we have received something more precious than gold and more useful than any other tool––: we have received an education; the only request now is that we use it.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of 1969:

Finis est in conspectu – initium est ad magnum

Commencement, with its realizations of academic completion, leaves in its wake the residue of happy memories. Your high school experiences have been, I trust, more than the compiling of pleasant reflections. It should have instilled in each of you the basic elements required by the society in which we live.

From you, the young people of this generation, must come the vision, the intellectual strength, and the courage to meet the most intense challenges ever confronting America.

To you, the challenge is hurled. From you, the challenge will be met.

With pride, I wish each of you the fullest measure of success in your appointment to your daily tasks.

Sincerely,
Dr. Henry J. Gatski
Superintendent

To the Class of 1969:

Congratulations to the members of the class of 1969 upon the completion of twelve years of education. You have now reached one of the major milestones in your life, graduation from high school.

During the past twelve years you have received helpful guidance, advice and suggestions from your teachers and friends that should be valuable to you in selecting the best possible path to follow in the future. May the lessons of life that you have experienced serve you well in whatever endeavor you may choose to pursue.

As a class you have been most cooperative, and you have constantly displayed such traits as initiative, sincerity, dependability and maturity. It is my sincere wish that these attitudes and traits that you have developed will enable you to enjoy a happy and most successful future.

Sincerely,
Mr. Jack C. Wanich
Principal

Mr. George Gehrig, Business Manager, has been employed by the Danville School System for over twenty years. He received his B.S. from Bloomsburg State College. He furthered his education at Bucknell University, where he obtained an M.S. Mr. Gehrig formerly taught Business Math at the Danville Junior High School for sixteen years.

Mr. Robert A. Hawk, Director of Elementary Education, has been employed by the Danville Area School District for fourteen years. Mr. Hawk graduated from Bloomsburg State College with a B.S. Degree. He then furthered his education at Bucknell University, where he obtained his M.S. Degree, and has taken several credits at Penn State University. He formerly was an Elementary Principal and teacher in other school systems throughout Pennsylvania.

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1966 we Seniors entered high school as scared Sophomores. We were over two hundred strong, and although our numbers have dwindled since then, we are proud of our class and our year. Thus, we present our history:

As Sophomores, we elected Lynn Swank, president; John Magill, vice-president; Marian Pritchard, secretary; Debbie Eyerly, treasurer; and Diane Yost, historian. Our advisor was Mr. Lynn Shoop.

Each class must finance a prom and a class trip. With this in mind, we sold enough candy in class sales to make quite a profit.

In the spring of the year we selected our class ring, flower, color, and motto. The color green was to be used for both our ring and our class color. Our flower was a rose and our motto–"Knowledge is the foundation of success."

As Juniors our new officers were Lynn Swank, president; John Magill, vice-president; Marian Pritchard, secretary; Debbie Eyerly, treasurer; and Marsha Gatski, historian. We again sold candy for our class sales, and we again made a profit that well rounded our hidden cache. Following class sales we picked "Mardi Gras" for our Prom theme and Sue Richardson and Mark Shipe as our Prom chairmen. As our prom date approached, activity in the gym reached a fever pitch in order to finish decorating. But on May 24 after last bits of crepe paper and cheese cloth were cleaned up, the D.H.S. Mardi Gras was as exciting as hoped for. (But oh the next morning!) Actually, everything was cleared away in good time.

As Seniors our officers were Lynn Swank, president; Reed Messmore, vice-president; Marian Pritchard, secretary; Debbie Eyerly, treasurer; and Diane Yost, historian.

This last year, we sold magazines for our class project. Along with money from a dance featuring "the Cartoons" we made enough money for our class trip to New York on June 4. Our Senior Prom was entitled "Gone with the Wind" and was held on May 23, 1969.

Graduation day was June 5, 1969. We now seek separate paths, but the memories will always linger of our high school days and of D.H.S.

Respectfully submitted,
Diane Yost, historian.

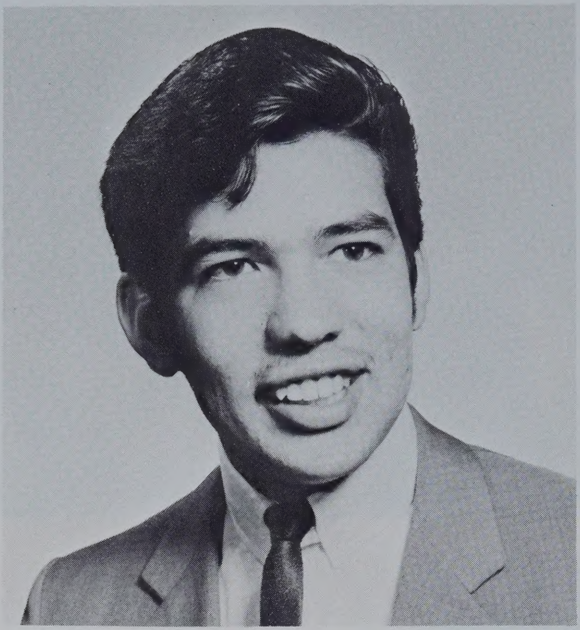
EXCHANGE STUDENTS



Jorge BucioLira is the D.H.S. friend from south of the border. He has listed his interests as all kinds of music and girls, in that order. He has stayed with the Williams, Fallon, and Long families during his stay. He plans to attend the University of Mexico and to become a lawyer.

Magda Suarez, a foreign exchange student from Puerto Rico, graduated from St. Cyril's Academy and has done post graduate work at D.H.S. in order to become a language secretary. Unfortunately, she had to return home because of illness in the family.

Judy Moller is a senior from Danville who is attending high school in Allen, Argentina. Judy was selected from a group of students who applied with the Rotary International Student Exchange.

She is attending a rural school that conducts classes from 1:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon. After Judy returns to the United States she plans to attend Syracuse University.

Lemme at 'em!

Danville's patented two-headed coin.

The 1968 edition of the Ironmen football team provided football fans with many exciting moments throughout the season. Many times, the difference between victory and defeat can be measured in inches or seconds. The final score of any one football game or the season's record can often be deceiving.

The 5–5 record logged by the Ironmen does not do justice to the fine effort they displayed on the gridiron in 1968. The names of Appleman, Cero, Birth, Brady, Baylor, Wilson, Bower, Everett, Magill, Jones, Pegg, Ryan, Troup, and Riley can be added to the long list of Ironmen who have played this great game at Danville High.

Sometimes we have the ball . . .

And sometimes we don't.

But on this touchdown, it's all Danville!

At first glance, there would seem to be little to commend the basketball season of 1968–69 to the memory of "spoiled" Danvillians. The famed Ironmen of Coach Walter McCloskey failed to repeat as Susquehanna Valley League Champions and managed to post only a 15–8 overall record, subpar for the Orange and Purple, but a very respectable mark by comparison with hundreds of other schools.

Behind this "poor" showing, however, was a story closely parallel to the proverbial cat with nine lives as adversity plagued the ambitious Ironmen throughout the campaign. Before the opening of the season, in which many experts ranked them as one of four teams to beat for SVL honors, the Ironmen lost its first two "lives" as a pair of highly regarded guards, Kim May and Doug Stetler, were sidelined with injuries that were to keep them out of the lineup until the last month of league play. Later, another promising player–junior guard Mike Wintersteen–was sidelined by illness that kept him out of action throughout the exhibition and early league games.

Then at the crucial point of the first half schedule, Co-Captain Vic Marks was struck down with the virus and was not up to full strength for important contests with Shamokin and Northwest. As if this were not enough Captains Reed Messmore and Jim Cero, Mike Ryan and Dale Shobert were hit at different intervals by the flu bugaboo which hampered their play for a time.

Eight lives were unavailable for critical periods of competition, when the ninth "life" was lost is debatable. The climatic tilt with SVL champion Shamokin in a PIAA, District 4, Class A, semi-final game played at Berwick could be pinpointed as the last straw in Danville's chances to grab of honors in 1968–69. Plagued by foul trouble and the uncooperativeness of the officials, the Ironmen still lost by only two points, 50–48. Shamokin went on to defeat Williamsport to capture the district title. On the other hand, the final "life" could have been lost as the Ironmen dropped an uninspired decision to arch-rival Berwick in the final league game of the season.

Despite the adversity that dogged them all season, however, this band of Orange and Purple hoopsters never collapsed completely and never could be taken lightly by an opponent. Inability to win consistently against the better teams on a schedule of highly-ranked foes cost them a place in the basketball "sun". There was a general belief among qualified observers that the Ironmen at full strength probably were the best team in the league.

The luck of the Ironmen ran out in 1968–69, but happily there is always next year to look forward to. The word is out that DHS in 1969–70 will field a strong team. Only six of this year's 25–man squad, Captains Reed Messmore and Jim Cero, Mike Ryan, Bob Tomcavage, Doug Stetler, and Charles McWilliams will be departing via the graduation route. Nineteen members of the squad plus an additional 25 players moving up from the jayvee unit will form the nucleus of the 1969–70 varsity team. And anyone who is cognizant of Danville High's winning habits in basketball should realize that both Coach McCloskey and his cagers are determined to "get back in business," which means winning the SVL basketball title.

Mr. Hess,
Coach

Although the 1968–69 wrestling squad did not log an impressive record in dual meets, there is still much to be said in its behalf. While wrestling is in every sense of the word a team effort, still each boy has the opportunity to prove himself as an individual contestant. The very fact that a boy will stick it out for the duration of the season speaks well of him, for probably no other high school sport is quite so demanding physically as well as in other ways. Sacrifice and desire are two basic ingredients for wrestling.

Mr. Barratt
Coach

The Varsity bowling teams are a natural outgrowth of the intramural programs which commence for the students while they are in Junior High School. During the season, competition is held with girls and boys teams from eight other area schools and each team meets the other in a home and an away match. The climax of the season is the Susquehanna Valley High School Bowling Championship which is held at Danville at the close of the season each year. Upwards of fifteen teams on the whole participate in the tournament.
